

STAR Institute is the international leader for research, treatment, and education related to sensory integration and processing. As a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, we are dedicated to improving mainstream awareness of sensory health and to providing life-changing support and resources for individuals and families across the lifespan. STAR Institute supports all areas of sensory health including mental health, school success, child development, parenting, relationships, and vocational success. For some, disordered sensory processing profoundly impacts daily functioning. However, many differences in sensory processing do not need to be disabling. We believe everyone should have access to high-quality support, resources, and treatment for sensory health.

COMPREHENSIVE COURSES

Our courses are designed to build on one another to increase understanding of sensory integration & processing, relationships, and regulation and/or focus on a specific topic.

WE ARE COMMITTED TO CHANGING THE WORLD FOR THOSE WITH SENSORY CHALLENGES.

STAR's Education Department is dedicated to increasing global awareness of the importance and role of sensory health and well-being across the lifespan. Our educational programs expand on the solid foundation provided by sensory integration and further incorporate relational and regulation awareness and interventions that address engagement, participation, function and overall health and wellness.

We focus on developing and delivering the most up-to-date information on research and treatment to professionals, families, caregivers, and individuals impacted by disordered sensory processing. We aim to improve sensory knowledge, best practices and treatment applications for professionals and caregivers who care for individuals/families living with sensory processing challenges.

We are an AOTA approved provider with flexible programming (Online, Livestream, & In-person) courses, conferences, webinars and workshops.

COLLABORATIVE EVENTS

The Symposium and Virtual Summits are annual conferences with a specific focus in the sensory field; there is something for all levels of learning.

WEBINARS & SHORT COURSES

These are short online low-cost or no-cost learning opportunities geared toward introductory level understanding and learning. Many are open to all participants outside of the clinical field.

SENSORY ONLINE LEARNING

Our Online Learning Platform is your destination for the latest online courses covering sensory related topics taught by world-renowned leaders in the field.

CERTIFICATION COURSES

STAR provides clinicians with a unique opportunity to receive ongoing continuing education leading to Certification in disordered Sensory Processing (STAR ProCert). The intensive training focuses on:

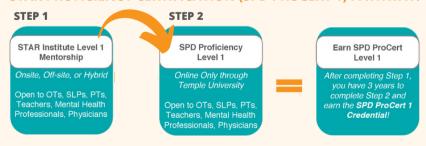

- · Development of advanced clinical reasoning
- Comprehensive sensory-based assessment
- Application of the STAR PROCESS treatment model for intervention
- Treatment effectiveness research for disordered Sensory Processing

Our certification program consists of two levels - STAR ProCert 1 and 2.

WHY BECOME STAR CERTIFIED?

Certification begins with an expansive overview of sensory processing, the STAR Frame of Reference and the STAR PROCESS treatment model with takeaways you can put into practice. As you continue through the pathway, you will deepen your understanding of the theory and implement it in your own practice with ongoing feedback to strengthen your therapeutic skills.
